

Don't be Too Economical.

It is encouraging to know that there is such a general disposition among the people of Decatur to improve and beautify the city—such a willingness to spend money for the adornment of their homes and the purchase of works of art which minister to the higher and more refined tastes of humanity. This disposition argues a substantial growth in refinement and cultivation, and shows that we have gone beyond the era when the mere struggle for existence and subsistence occupied the public mind to the exclusion of everything else. The proposition to adorn the old square has often been made, but never with so good a prospect of success as now, and never before when there seemed so much unanimity as to the general character of the work. The plan, which contemplates the erection of a monument to commemorate the patriotism and valor of the men who went from Macon county to fight their country's battles, is one that appeals to the loftiest sentiments of the human heart. Mankind has always loved to honor its heroic men, and nowhere on earth does this sentiment prevail more universally than among the people of a free country, where the citizen freely volunteers to stand before his country and her foes. And nowhere does this feeling of gratitude towards the patriotic soldier do greater honor to its possessor than here, where it may be truly said that "a country's gratitude is the hero's best reward."

The details of the proposed monument are not important now, but there is one thing which is vitally important, and that is that the plan shall not contemplate any Cheap John's fair of which everybody will be ashamed ten years hence. What we build now to perpetuate the memory of our patriot soldiers we are building to be looked at for ages to come. If it offends the eye of the next generation by its poverty of design or execution, it will go on offending until it crumbles into dust, belittling the cause of loyalty by showing the parsimony of the generation that stood nearest to the heroes whose names and deeds were the ostensible subject of our praise. Macon county is rich in everything that goes to make up a prosperous community, and its people have given ample proof of their generosity in more ways than one. They will not only be willing to contribute liberally for an object so near their hearts, but will do so eagerly, if the matter is placed before them in the proper light. The money can be easily raised to build a monument that will be a source of joy forever to the citizen as well as the stranger who comes to gaze upon it, and we ought to see to it that no other kind is built.

Concerning the report that Henry Ward Beecher is going to England to lecture that gentleman says: "The first knowledge I had of it came from the newspapers, and having made diligent inquiry at home, I am obliged to dissent from the statement."

The Pennsylvania Democrats are pushing a presidential boom for Hancock, and a good many people believe that this is in accordance with the wishes of Tilden. The Whisker of Cyprian Alley is still a power in Democratic circles, and if the party can't have him for president it will be very apt to take the man he names, so accustomed is it to being led and controlled by somebody who has a bar.

Rev. C. S. Smith, chairman of the general committee of arrangements for the Colored Men's Conference at Pittsburg, has issued a circular explaining that the object is to have the colored men of the states in which the colored vote is a matter of importance use their influence to have the National Republican Convention take up the cause of the colored men in the South. It is to be hoped they may be successful.

The Review longs for a return of the time when "the office sought the man," and there are many other people who would enjoy hugely a reposition of the broad comedy so repeatedly played here along about the year 1874, when the woods were full of Democrats dodging around to keep out of the way of offices that were seeking them. There was plenty of fun to the on-lookers, albeit the offices sometimes made as poor selections as any wicked political party ever did. But it was funny, all the same.

A Disastrous Cyclone Sweeps Over Several States, Doing Much Damage.

Much Valuable Property Destroyed and Many Lives Lost—Some Miraculous Escapes.

The Flood in the Lower Mississippi Contributes Its Quota to the Disasters of the Day.

In Ohio.

DAYTON, O., March 25.—A destructive storm visited this section last evening at six o'clock. The principal damage was done east of this city, and from Springfield, Va. It is reported that the house and barn of Samuel Blackles were blown down. The loss of life is not reported, but everywhere the wind was very destructive.

Further details of the cyclone near here confirm the first reports of damage done. Its track is most marked in the vicinity of Oak Ridge, on the shore of Lake Erie, where the forest was blown down, and buildings raved.

The railroad was blocked by falling timber and trains delayed.

Near Oak Ridge a farm hand named Charles Cowan was carried 200 yards by the wind and landed in a tree. The path is estimated as fifty yards wide, and the forest show where it rose from the earth and descended again. In such places it had almost a springing effect.

A child named William Wilson was crushed under the timbers of a barn near Oak Ridge. The full extent of the damage is not yet heard from, and other loss of life is expected.

In Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 25.—A wind storm swept over the northeast quarter of the city last afternoon, unroofing a public school building and doing considerable damage to private residences and stables. One street car was overturned and John Stanton, the driver, and Mrs. J. T. Draugh, a passenger, were severely injured. Another street car was overturned, and a child was killed.

HORACE LAYTON was the chairman of the Lee meeting in the fifth ward last evening, and Tom held the floor until after nine o'clock. Tom says his aim was to defeat the nomination of John Gogarty, and he boasts of having been successful.

If you are suffering from a sense of good. It will do away with that tired feeling, and give you new life and energy.

This new creamery at Clinton now receives the milk from over 500 cows, and the management expect soon to double that number. Champaign county is soon to be represented in this product by a ton.

takes the cake. 11-12

The economic aspect is a strong point in favor of the use of Dr. Price's Special Flavoring Extracts, Vanilla, Orange, Rose, Almond, Lemon, etc. First, they are three times the strength of ordinary extracts; second, the bottles hold nearly twice as much as those ordinarily sold for the same size; third, they are made from the true fruits.

The Court House at Lincoln Crowded With People.

(Special to the REPUBLICAN.)

LINCOLN, Ill., March 20, 2 p. m.—The citizens of Logan county called by "many citizens" to give public expression in a set of resolutions on crime, is now in progress at the court house, which is completely filled with people.

The streets are alive with city and country people, and hundreds are unable to get into the court room.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barnes, parents of Zura Barnes, occupy prominent positions in the court room.

Everything is conducted quietly and orderly, though many who believe Carpenter wrongfully acquitted express themselves emphatically against the Petersburg verdict.

The daughters of Carpenter are in Lincoln, but Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter are yet in Macon county.

One of the resolutions to be presented for adoption will be a notification of the meeting to Carpenter that the atmosphere of Lincoln will be too warm for him to longer make that town his home.

Some of the best citizens of Lincoln and the county are in attendance.

A General Caucus.

The voters in the 6th ward held another general caucus at the Eldorado house last night, at which there was more or less talking by Thomas Lee and others.

An adjournment was forced by Lee, whereupon a second meeting was held, A. H.
Shoemaker serving as chairman. A ballot was taken to place in nomination a candidate for alderman, and Zech Coover and John Gogarty were the contestants.

Coover, who is a Wabash engineer, received a majority of the votes cast, and he was declared the nominee. This independent candidate is Thomas Lee, James Donaherty and George Bedford.

Four candidates in one ward ought to be enough, and if all stay on the track there will be a general demand in that district for lead pencils. The fight at this writing promises to be a hot one, and Mr. Gogarty can look out on a suit.

Death of Trustee P. Brown.

Trustee P. Brown, who has been confined to his bed for a period of thirteen weeks, died this (Wednesday) morning at 2 o'clock at the family residence, 335 West Pearce street, in the 33rd year of his age.

The deceased was afflicted with chronic pneumonia. He was a native of Pickenway county, Ohio, and had lived in Decatur many years, where he had many friends.

He was a member of Mason Lodge of Masons, and was also a member of the First M. E. church. He leaves a widow, and a brother and sister, P. W. Brown and Miss T. W. Brown, both of Circleville, Ohio, both of whom are now in the city.

The funeral will take place from the family residence to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The remains will be interred with Masonic ceremonies.

The Minister.

To-morrow evening Laverly's European Mastodon, now on a farewell tour prior to sailing for England in June, will appear at the opera house. Their comic three-act operatic afterpieces entitled the "Princess of Madagascar," is said to be the most notable conception in the history of minstrelsy.

This stock of books and shoes assigned to K. S. Bolton by Duncan & Doyle, has been purchased at an open sale by Mr. J.
W. Bacon, whose bid was $2800. There were 10 other bidders, a Cincinnati man bidding $2600. The sale was approved yesterday by Judge Groce in the county court. Mr. Bacon will open a store in Commercial block, and dispose of the stock at retail.

Easter Ball.

A grand ball will be given at Guards' Armory on Easter Monday night, April 14th, under the management of the Decatur Trades Assembly. The affair will be "one of the finest," and the proceeds will be used for benevolent purposes by the order. Tickets may be had of the committee. The new Opera Orchestra will play for the party. 25-32

CHARLES BAKER, the well-known janitor, who was pinned against the wall at the Blenz meat market corner last evening by a 100 lb. cart, was quite seriously injured but not repaired as was supposed. He was able to walk about this forenoon, and will doubtless soon recover.

This regular monthly sociable will be held in the Y. M. C. A. rooms to-morrow evening. All friends of the association are cordially invited. Let the young men bring their friends. Music and recitation will assist in making the evening pass pleasantly.

This charge against Wm. H. Huggins, arrested for complicity in the triple murder drama's stock. He was discharged by Judge Rudolph as Lincoln yesterday.
Attorney Buckingham appeared for the defendant. Now let's all wait for the next sensational arrest.

This price for the Beecher lecture will be $1.00 down stairs; gallery, 75 cents.
Reserved seats can be had without extra charge. These rates are 25 cents lower than were adopted in March, 1877, when Beecher was here and had a packed audience.

the undertaking will make an effort to burst the Decatur railway pool, which expires by limitation on April 1st.

SHOONKE wants for the Mrs. Langtry engagement Friday night. Prices, $200, $150 and $100.

to $15,000 a mile to pave the streets of Decatur with brick.

The Brethrenmen Brothers will soon commence a $10,000 improvement at their celebrated stock stables on Franklin street. Mr. M. G. Patterson has prepared the plans for a large two-story brick addition to take the place of the old rickety frames at the rear of the front, and it will go up as soon as the weather will permit.
The contract has not yet been let. When finished the Brethrenmen will have the largest and most complete stock stables to be found anywhere in the country.

The firm will continue to import Dutch Norman and Clydesdale stallions, and make Decatur their principal distributing point. Mr. D. W. Brethrenman contemplates making a trip to France the coming summer and making purchases in person.

Again Detained.

This morning Marshal Mason brought Bill Murphy and Bloomer Formwalt before Justice McGorray, where they were to have had a hearing on a charge of robbing Daniel Rogers of $170.

The examination was deferred until this afternoon. There were a crowd of witnesses and spectators in the court room.
Murphy is a stout looking chap and looks as if he might get away with the best thumper in town.

A Dreadful Fate.

Tuesday evening at about 4:30 o'clock Edmund Holley, a well-known Irish fur-ner, aged 60 years, who owned a farm of 80 acres five miles west of Decatur, near the Wyke place, went to his barn near the dwelling for the purpose of feeding his stock. Shortly afterward a son of Mr.
Holley, who was at work in the field, noticed smoke issuing from the roof of the barn, and he hurried to the stable, when he saw his father jump from the loft into the mud, all his clothing on fire. Mr.
Holley was dreadfully burned, some portions of his body being charred. Only a part of his stomach and his entire right leg escaped the flames. The barn with all its contents were destroyed, and the neighbors had hard work to save the dwelling. Dr. Cass Chenoweth visited Mr. Holley last night and did what he could to relieve his intense sufferings.

Mr. Holley also visited the unfortunate man and remained with him until he died. Death came at 6 o'clock this morning. It is not known how the barn could have caught fire, unless the old man had taken his pipe with him to the stable and there lit it, dropping the match among the hay. The deceased leaves a widow, two grown sons and five daughters, one of whom is connected with the Unionville convent at Alto.

The funeral will, take place from St. Patrick's church to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

WHISTLING BULLETS.

Officer Brewer's Rodent with a Tough Customer.

Officer Brewer walked up a Tartar yesterday afternoon soon after one o'clock.

The fellow was seemingly a quick sort of a chap, and was first seen sitting on a hand-car on the Wabash track near the north end of Mercer street. Brewer thought his notions suspicious, and he concluded to run him up, or at least get him out of that quiet portion of the city.

The fellow refused to obey, and Brewer made a step toward him. The fellow then started off on a trot with the officer after him. Looking back the fellow saw Brewer reaching for his Derringer, whereupon the fleeing man pulled out his revolver and at a distance of perhaps 20 feet fired at Brewer, but missed him. Then Brewer fired a bullet at the fellow, but on account of the strong wind or some other cause the bullet failed to lodge in the fellow's fleece, though he ducked his head as it went whizzing past him. Meantime this chap was making rapid strides in the direction of full timber, and after a short delay Brewer, reinforced by Dan Chip and a long-barreled rifle, started in hot pursuit of the scamp. It was learned that he had broken into Edwin Park's stable northwest of the city, where he killed a bride, and going farther, he captured one of Matt Becker's horses in a field, and then rode off over hills and through ravines out of sight, leaving his pursuers in the rear fruitlessly searching through the mud. The attack is said to be a tough citizen of the "doo-doo" stripe, and was prepared to die with his boots on. He threw off his overcoat as he ran, and that is the only trophy Brewer has of the fruitless race.

Fruit and Ornamental Trees.

Mr. S. Bouchman, proprietor of the Friends Creek Nursery, will bring to Decatur next week, the weather permitting, a good lot of fruit, evergreen, shade and other ornamental trees, roses, flowering bulbs, etc. All will be sold at reasonable figures. Call at the old stand, near Linn & Scruggs' store, on East Main street. 11-12
